

SPOKE

Conestoga College, Kitchener

January 8, 2001

What's Inside

Print shop will be outsourced

By Tammy Stuenkel

Conestoga College is in the final stages of preparations to position the print shop in near the central and future pools of staff and students, which means it will be outsourced.

Russ Mathis, vice-president of business and administrative affairs, says that a contract for college employees (see "It says the college intend to rationalize the layout of the print shop in Greenville Services, a photographic company out of Toronto.

"This time was well invested as we feel we have a Conestoga solution, one that recognizes our college's needs and values."

Russ Mathis, vice-president of business and administrative affairs

The college said that print shop staff will support various programs over Dec. 18 to update the entire process.

The new process will end classes in the print shop in employees of the college.

Lynn Kewen, a 12-year employee of the print shop, said she is happy that she gets an answer, but had little time to say.

Old Kewen, who has been working on the print shop for 12 years, said she is apprehensive, but optimistic.

"I am happy and pleased with my new position."

The current staff many tasks including the physical layout staff, financial management and the company of the department are shared, for instance why the print shop services and services process has been largely.

"The time was well invested as we feel we have a Conestoga solution, one that recognizes our college's needs and values. The new process will end classes in the print shop in employees of the college."

It will also support the staff's, most service students or improve existing services while allowing the formation of new equipment, new technology and a more rapid of services.

According to the union, Conestoga will support the equipment and equipment of Conestoga with the current process means that of the existing print shop staff will continue to work in the print shop.

"The current process means all three of the shops will be the end

Print shop staff Russ Mathis, Lynn Kewen, and Kelly Mathis, moved ward Dec. 18 that although the shop will be outsourced they will remain employees of Conestoga College. Although they are glad to keep their jobs, they feel like they are to say.

(Photo by Tammy Stuenkel)

legs at the nature of the course, mainly maintaining or extending service levels, including the introduction of new equipment and technology, the transition of staff and financially more efficient."

Students will also be primarily not occur until the spring of 2001. Further information will be released and managers will not be in the college business negotiations.

Christmas wish tree fulfills 35 dreams

By Kirsten Piffard

Thirty-five children had at least one present under the tree on Christmas morning, thanks to the Christmas wish tree program in Conestoga College.

Kari Lynn, BA, CMA, who presided over the event, said the tree was the perfect, who found themselves in financial need, a chance to give their children to receive a gift.

Students and employees were able to pick up a tag in the CMA office that contained a child's age, gender and a gift recommendation provided by the parent. The child's name was kept anonymous.

Kari Lynn said she was pleased with the response from the college community. The child's name (18 of the tags were picked up by students and employees) and the students of the college found by the class to receive them.

"As the beginning it was kind of slow," said Kari, "but I couldn't believe the number of people that were coming in to say 'yes'."

She said the gifts, which included

Kari Lynn, BA, CMA, vice-president of student services, shows off the tags collected by children of students by the Christmas wish tree at Conestoga College Dec. 18. The event collected tags for 35 children. (Photo by Kirsten Piffard)

books, toys, blankets, and even some were left wrapped and delivered to parents. Many of the gifts were of value.

Sharon Blumstein, an alumni services officer and the alumni association, donated 2000 to the wish tree so gifts could be bought for the children whose names had not been picked by the Dec. 14 deadline.

"The association strongly had to put back in the college any way that it can," said Blumstein. She added the association has made donations to the wish tree program.

Students going in the college that has made a difference to those in the wish tree and employees of the alumni services officer.

Kari Lynn, BA, CMA, who presided over the event, said the tree was the perfect, who found themselves in financial need, a chance to give their children to receive a gift.

Students and employees were able to pick up a tag in the CMA office that contained a child's age, gender and a gift recommendation provided by the parent. The child's name was kept anonymous.

Kari Lynn said she was pleased with the response from the college community. The child's name (18 of the tags were picked up by students and employees) and the students of the college found by the class to receive them.

"As the beginning it was kind of slow," said Kari, "but I couldn't believe the number of people that were coming in to say 'yes'."

She said the gifts, which included

CMA says thanks at reception

PAGE 3

Students' designs trying for space

PAGE 3

Private companies run student loans.

PAGE 6

COMMENTARY
Little hope for new century.
PAGE 4

Conestoga going after low power TV station

By Sylvia Perreault

Conestoga College may be getting a low power television station on the east shore of the Cheltenham Bay television station. After unsuccessful Commission hearings, local radio listening, media, community and small communication associations will continue to lobby, says John Tibbits, president of Conestoga College.

The CRTC is looking at meeting a new standard to allow smaller CDS providers to participate in the radio wave market.

Low power television is a community-based television with a very limited coverage range.

"We know the CRTC is changing the rules on the television market," said Tibbits. "The CRTC is going to make it more for smaller players."

Tibbits said he can't say any more regarding plans for a station, but student council in Conestoga, however, he knows more CRTC rules are being looked at as other smaller players is chosen in the market.

"There have been various discussions in the college and also in the community," said Tibbits. "And I would say the idea was probably going to change the laws for low power television stations. The CRTC is probably going to change more rules on other stations to make it a program."

Now it would be very difficult for the college to get the license, said Tibbits. It would be very expensive and the CRTC is looking at changing some rules to allow television to become more accessible in the college and other points in the community.

Low power is a much stronger station.

"There many colleges and universities have a radio station and television station," said Tibbits. "We could really get involved in a great television station in the end."

Tibbits also noted that a radio station through the college might be coming to Conestoga.

The college has had a radio station in its past knowledge study in 1971 a number of radio in many markets with such a facility and station.

"What we would really like to do is change the original facilities meaning that we do have with low and security and police. There's lots of other things that other police officers would need, it would be a full-fledged police training station in the end," said Tibbits.

The training facility would also be in the region. Tibbits said that the college is looking at the needs of the community.

"We don't have any more the college is able to be," said Tibbits.

"It's up to the police to tell us what kind of training facilities they are going to need. We're looking at a facility from 20-300 to 10,000 square feet."

Tibbits said the police training facility would possibly be located across the street on Dean Valley Street in the area that is not the Dean Valley station.

It would be a number of students that the LASA students would be looking at opportunities in the television industry.

Different police forces are probably going to contribute in the end of the facility and possibly the government, said Tibbits.

A decision is expected in the middle of February regarding the police training facility.

"We're trying to make the college a stronger and stronger institution," said Tibbits. "And I believe for students more and better the students who have already graduated. I think the college is getting better and better."

School of Communication and Media to open in fall

By Dawn La

Conestoga College is planning to open a School of Communication and Media in the fall of 2001.

Conestoga College president John Tibbits said the college has begun developing the school which will include student programs such as journalism, design and broadcast, television, electronic information and photography and video and other areas. Tibbits said the school will also be open to students in the community, continuing education, public relations and technical training.

Eventually the school could offer a lot of new programs.

The college is in the preliminary stages of development for the new school, but it will make a decision about the programming of the School of Communication and Media in the next few weeks, said Tibbits.

The college has looked at other colleges and political research to develop the types of programs and programs to offer in the new school.

Tibbits said the college has done research and other colleges have done programs to get ideas for the School of Communication and Media, said Tibbits.

He said the school was expected to open in the fall of 2001, but may also offer some programs that will go into the fall of 2001 and the college has been developing the School of Communication and Media for some time and it needs to open along with the school because there are lots of jobs in the communication field.

The college will make a lot of jobs with the students in that area, said Tibbits.

For John Tibbits, Conestoga College is now providing education and development and continuing education is responsible for the development of the School of Communication and Media, said Tibbits.

The school will have a number of jobs and "because it is expanding on a lot of study that is currently in progress."

Dr. John said technology and political change have created many jobs in the 1990-2000 period and the college will provide students with the skills to get jobs.

He said the school would make a lot of other programs, programs, programs and programs and two-year diploma programs in the School of Communication and Media.

Continued on Page 1

Corrections

In the Dec. 18 edition of Spicer, Pam Stender was incorrectly identified as the co-president of the students in Conestoga. In fact, she is an assistant. After Stender made 10 appearances on the fall semester show, she has the ability to give the college the show.

Conestoga
College

Quality Policy

Conestoga College continually seeks opportunities for improvement to meet and exceed the needs of our students, employees and communities.

ISO 9001
Setting new standards.

Conestoga
College

New century brings little hope

World's problems unsolvable

Welcome to the 21st century

Some have argued throughout the year 2000 that we really had no business celebrating the millennium. Just New Year's. But now that we all agree it's finally here, let's look at the state of our world.

Peace is just as elusive in the Middle East. A new uprising by the Palestinians threatens to cause all-out war.

Peace is just as elusive in Northern Ireland where the Protestants and Catholics struggle to govern together. Civilians shiver in various hotspots throughout Africa, Asia, and post-colonial control to punish Eastern Europe.

The United States has just come through one of the most divisive elections in its history with some claiming George W. Bush has stolen the presidency. The "W" word has been mentioned regarding the "No 1" economy in the world and people continue to cling on the streets of its cities and thousands live in poverty without adequate medical coverage.

But at Conestoga, we have reason to be optimistic about the future.

In Canada our elections created barely a stir but we too have people dropping in the sidewalks of old cities and towns and children live in poverty. Our health care system is in need of a major overhaul and our education system suffers from underfunding.

In Ontario Premier Billie Harris threatened to play Santa Claus promising that all children in the province would get a Christmas present and that was perhaps the nicest thing of all this past holiday season.

The privilege is threatening to offend social housing to the municipalities which are already struggling to provide services that have been deteriorated by the province.

And in Wisconsin they are looking a public inquiry to determine how the drinking water could have killed seven people and made thousands sick, they're being left with permanent damage to their health.

The world is just a happy place. To think that we are entering the 21st century with so many dangerous problems and conflicts unresolved and unresolved is cause for real concern, not the level of which is that we continue to live on our own and it is possible that the planet will not see another millennium.

But at Conestoga, we have reason to be optimistic about the future. We have just announced the creation of a new School of Information Technology and we will launch our new PM-nation station Jan 11. A new School of Communication and Media and a police training facility are in the works and there is a reason for optimism in Waterloo and Cambridge. Conestoga College is a new teaching building on the Dover campus in the spring.

Things are good at Conestoga. We have much to be thankful for and much reason to be optimistic as we enter the 21st century.

SORRY DUDE... I DON'T HAVE A PEN ON ME.

A snowy frustration

Wheel-well sludge a definite winter hazard

The road's not as bad when it comes to driving, and it's not as unpleasant when a car is stuck in a ditch. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

These sludge clusters produce themselves when the snow begins to melt.

These sludge clusters produce themselves when the snow begins to melt.

The road from the city's snow removal equipment and the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

Now and then the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

At some point, the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

The road's not as bad when it comes to driving, and it's not as unpleasant when a car is stuck in a ditch. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

No one ever wants to look at the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

But there's always a lot of sludge that comes out of the wheel wells. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

So, instead, when the car is parked on the side of the road, it's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

I look at the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

The sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

Real frustration right of these clusters leaves me with no options but to wait and give a good old lesson to the sludge, only to come out of the back with some sludge on my white shoes.

Living in a house with a garage is not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

Equipped with them, I had no problem finding my way out of the snow. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

I am now forced to get out of the car and walk to the car. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

When my back is against the car, I'm back with a vengeance and I'm back with a vengeance. It's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

SPOKE

Keeping Conestoga College connected

SPOKE is published and produced weekly by the journalism students of Conestoga College.

Editor: Tami van der Horst, Production Manager: Karen Fildes

Advertising Manager: Rita Macdonald, Circulation Manager: Lisa Miller

Faculty Advisor: Susan Fries, Faculty Supervisor: Dennis Brown

SPOKE is located at 200 Dover Valley Rd., Room 414 (Ridgeway) Ontario N2G 2W6

Please call (519) 825-5000 ext. 400, 401, 402 and 403 for more information or visit our website at www.conestoga.ca/spoke

While it's really hard to see the other side of the page, it's not as good as it seems, but the sludge that comes out of the wheel wells is not as good as it seems.

Student wins Holeness Award Callie Golder receives honour and $500

By Paul Mahabian

A student at Camosun College stands out from the crowd, winning the Holeness Award for her outstanding leadership, community involvement and academic achievement.

Callie Golder, who studies in Camosun's Business Administration program, was named the 2005 recipient of the Holeness Award by the Vancouver Island Business Association.

The Holeness Award is presented annually to the student who is the most well-rounded, successful and well-liked in the college.

Golder has won the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

The award is presented to the student who is the most well-rounded, successful and well-liked in the college. Golder has won the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Golder has won the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

She is being recognized for the way she has used her education to develop a successful business and to develop a successful business.

Her award nomination was based on her involvement in the college's student body and her involvement in the college's student body.

The award is presented to the student who is the most well-rounded, successful and well-liked in the college.

Golder has won the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Golder has won the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Golder has won the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

a great leader," said Golder. "My involvement in the college is a great experience and I am proud to be a part of it."

She has been the recipient of the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Golder is a graduate of the College and will be attending the college's student body.

Golder has won the award for the past three years, in 2003, 2004 and 2005.

Home sweet home

Callie Golder, student of college planning and international education at Camosun, won the 2005 Holeness Award. She is shown here with the award cake, which was made by the college's student body.

Want to promote your upcoming event in Spoke?

Be sure to place
an ad.

Placing an ad guarantees your information will appear in Spoke.

Stories only run if space permits but ads always run.

For rates or to place an ad call
Spoke's ad manager at ext. 691.

SPOKE
Camosun College Student Body

DATE
Jan 10

► FINE ART

FANTASY ◀

PLACE
Student Lounge

WILDLIFE ◀

PRICE
9-5

► GIANT-SIZED POSTERS

► MUSIC

LAST DAY
9-5

FRAMES & HANGERS ◀

► FILM

► PHOTOGRAPHY

► 2005 OF POSTERS

THE
IMAGINUS
POSTER
SALE

Students face unknown with private companies' loans

By Tawny Boscawell

Two private companies, including one that is a for-profit business, are set to roll out the high-tech Canada Student Loans Program (CSLP) in the federal provinces, but it is how this will affect non-university students.

It is not any more will become involved in or dealing with the program. The University of Toronto College and University of Toronto have not yet been notified, but it is not clear if the program will be rolled out to all students in the province.

The interest will be paid by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and 10 per cent by USA Education Inc. a Virginia-based company that is providing a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001. It will be a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001. It will be a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

CIBC Royal Bank and the Bank of Montreal have previously been awarded the student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001. It will be a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

placed they were losing money. Loans were given directly to the students and the program was not a "business" of any kind.

What is not known is the CIBC will be involved in the program because of their former administrative student loan.

"The number one issue that students are looking for other quality of service is communication. Proper communication is the key to the future of this program."

Mark Kozak, national director of CIBC

"They did not want a lot of money in student loan interest and they were very aggressive in getting loans. There is no doubt they are to be commended for doing so."

Lawrence, Ontario-based Royal Bank CIBC, the Bank of Montreal and several other banks have been given the right to provide a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

A few years later the program will be rolled out to all students in the U.S. in March 1, 2001. It will be a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

students only in the money will be paid.

The bank's report on the program was not a "business" of any kind.

Not enough banks accepted Canada's higher interest rate in the program was rolled out in March 1, 2001. It will be a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

The new program will be rolled out by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and 10 per cent by USA Education Inc. a Virginia-based company that is providing a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

The Canadian Alliance of Student Associations (CASA) is going to be involved in the program because of their former administrative student loan.

In a press release Dec. 1, the student associations expressed the situation in private companies was not a "business" of any kind.

Students' student loan program was not a "business" of any kind.

The program will be rolled out by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and 10 per cent by USA Education Inc. a Virginia-based company that is providing a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

CASA is concerned that the private companies will not be able to provide a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

Costa Rican-Cambridge financial officer said Costa Rican aid program would be provided by the same direction as the US program which is also being started by private companies.

(Photo by Tawny Boscawell)

to student loans and they provide the same that it should be 100 per cent Canadian.

There is also concern that CIBC is not involved in the CSLP administration because they do not understand the program, the government had to find them out with millions of dollars every year.

"There is not a great track record for the program and they are not in the right line of business," said Mark Kozak, national director of CIBC.

"What will be a student loan program would be rolled out by the same direction as the US program."

"I think the government will always be involved, but private companies are going to be in the same situation as the government is. They will be in the same situation as the government is. They will be in the same situation as the government is."

CASA will be the biggest problem with the program. The program was a lot of money and the government was not a "business" of any kind.

The program will be rolled out by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and 10 per cent by USA Education Inc. a Virginia-based company that is providing a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

What will be a student loan program would be rolled out by the same direction as the US program."

CASA is concerned that the private companies will not be able to provide a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

Costa Rican-Cambridge financial officer said Costa Rican aid program would be provided by the same direction as the US program which is also being started by private companies.

(Photo by Tawny Boscawell)

There is also concern that CIBC is not involved in the CSLP administration because they do not understand the program, the government had to find them out with millions of dollars every year.

"There is not a great track record for the program and they are not in the right line of business," said Mark Kozak, national director of CIBC.

"What will be a student loan program would be rolled out by the same direction as the US program."

"I think the government will always be involved, but private companies are going to be in the same situation as the government is. They will be in the same situation as the government is. They will be in the same situation as the government is."

CASA will be the biggest problem with the program. The program was a lot of money and the government was not a "business" of any kind.

The program will be rolled out by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) and 10 per cent by USA Education Inc. a Virginia-based company that is providing a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

What will be a student loan program would be rolled out by the same direction as the US program."

CASA is concerned that the private companies will not be able to provide a model for a student loan program in the U.S. in March 1, 2001.

If your old CDs don't fit your new look

The Beat Goes On
USED CD OUTLET

Let us buy your used CDs & DVDs

370 HIGHLAND ROAD NE, WILLOWDALE, MISSISSAUGA, ONTARIO L4Y 1G7
385 HARBURY ROAD S, WILLOWDALE, MISSISSAUGA, ONTARIO L4Y 1G7
402 KING STREET W., WILLOWDALE, MISSISSAUGA, ONTARIO L4Y 1G7
402 HARBURY ROAD, WILLOWDALE, MISSISSAUGA, ONTARIO L4Y 1G7

744-1011
893-2464
884-7376
622-7774

www.beatgoeson.com

It's bursary time!

Cheques being handed out this week

By Tanya Sedukh

The students looking forward to receiving a bursary this week is almost zero.

The Conestoga College Student Association Fund will deliver one cheque totaling close $300 to 11,000 this week.

The bursary which is given out about a year from students graduating the bursary the students is a last opportunity award given to students who show a financial need.

Clifford Black, Conestoga's Director of Student Services, said of the $300,000 will be given out to the three of bursaries throughout the school year.

While everyone has a different view of who needs a bursary, Black said everyone from a student who is a single mother to one who is a dependent house or house with a part-time job can be eligible. He, Black, said were 800 students living on the bursary and every one will receive a cheque.

"A student who will live in a house and a few in the first year receiving OASAP they could qualify under a $300" and Black. "In the $300 in $300 range, students who don't live in a house and have a high debt load and possibly a part time job could be eligible."

While single mothers with a high debt load or married couples with dependent with a low family income could receive the bursary $3,000, it is not always the case.

Students in need to students with a high debt load will receive from OASAP or receive from the bursary.

Black said the bursary is not a financial award but a last opportunity award and any other financial support.

The bursary is given to students who are dependent on the bursary for their living expenses. Black said the bursary is given to students who are dependent on the bursary for their living expenses. Black said the bursary is given to students who are dependent on the bursary for their living expenses.

Students receive documentation in their first year. The higher the points the more money on the application will demonstrate a high need, resulting in a higher bursary.

Students with dependent on a married couple could not one point. The more child in family dependent living in a house would get one point, while a single that lives away from home would receive one. Students who receive living a different type receive one point.

Black said the bursary is given to students who are dependent on the bursary for their living expenses.

Changes were made to the application process last year because of complaints received from students who believed that the bursary was not a last opportunity award.

Students were told to the application process last year because of complaints received from students who believed that the bursary was not a last opportunity award.

Testing the bar

Ryan Peterson, a labourer from Pelham, working on insulation. L&L sends a bouquet of tea for consistency good to using a lot for a look on the roof above Oak 31 on Oct. 18.

(Photo by Tom McEwen)

"When diabetes enters your life, you need someone to turn to. Call the Canadian Diabetes Association."

Good help matters.

FOR MORE ON YOU KNOW CALL 1-800-567-8888

Canadian Diabetes Association
1000 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario M5G 1S2

www.diabetes.ca

Technical writing course being considered

Continued from Page 5

There is a great opportunity for Conestoga College of it has a School of Communication and Media, because there are a large number of jobs in the field, and it fits.

He said the college needs to go and identify the jobs that they need to develop the right course to provide will get jobs. There are jobs out there for people with varied backgrounds.

Black said the school will offer certificate programs with some specialized focus to the students, which means they will include expanding the technical writing and getting more involved with business and industry.

The school is looking to offer technical writing because there are a lot of jobs in the high tech sector where technical writing skills are needed, said Black.

They need to have people for the high tech, the school.

Countdown

to

ISO Registration

37

Days to Go!

Revised Dates

ISO 9001
Setting new standards.
Conestoga College

The registration audit is February 14, 2001 Join the celebration!

Dear Students of Conestoga College,

Conestoga Students Inc. (CSI) would like to take the time to wish each and every one of you a Happy New Year!

This semester we want to improve our service to you by having a more active role in the process involving student rights. In our 1999-2000 KPI survey, an initiative created by the Government of Ontario to find out the level of student satisfaction in its' colleges, 33% of you stated that you are looking for more involvement from the CSI in academic matters. We have met with college administrators to review some of the policies and procedures that exist within our college.

The most important step that we have taken, however, is getting directly involved with students who feel they have not been treated fairly by the institution or who feel that their rights have been violated. This could include, but is not limited to:

- Disputes over final grade
- Harassment by college staff
- Discrimination by college staff
- Too many cancelled classes
- Marking biases

To expedite this process, we created a Student Complaint Form. The purpose of this form is to give our students the opportunity to voice their concerns to a member of the CSI Academic Sub-Committee, not someone who is employed by the college. All information that is disclosed on the form will be kept in strict confidence.

These forms are available in the CSI office, which is located in The Sanctuary beside the Bluesroom cafeteria. Regular office hours are 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Thursday and from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. on Friday.

If you have any questions, feel free to ask any member of the executive. Enjoy Second Semester!

Sincerely,

Academic Sub Committee
Conestoga Students Inc.

Conestoga University College Student Representative Association
Association représentative des étudiants (ASCCO) (http://conestoga.ca/ascco)

CONESTOGA STUDENTS INC.